High hopes for firm's future after buy-out

Jodie's West End dreams

JODIE Hart got an early birthday present when she was crowned a dance champion at the tender age of eight.

Jodie, who turned nine on Tuesday, has only been dancing with her partner Jack Morley, nine, from Royston, since she joined the town's KW Academy a year ago. They have just become under 12 boy-girl rock and roll champs at a show in Swindon.

Barnardiston resident Jodie, a pupil at Westfield Primary School in Haverhill, also came second in the under 10 street dance section.

The school won around 100 medals at the event, but Jodie and Jack were its youngest champions.

Mum Hayley said: "Jodie loves dancing and has done amazingly well in such a short space of time. She and Jack dance really well together and they get on very well."

"There are not that many other dancers as young as them, so they are often competing against older children."

Jodie said: "I was a bit shy at first. My teacher used to dance in the West End shows and that is what I want to do."

THE owner of one of the Haverhill area's biggest factories, Grampian Foods, has agreed to a buy-out, giving workers hopes that their jobs are secure.

Dutch food giant Vion signed an agreement to acquire Grampian, one of the UK's largest food processing firms, on Monday.

Scottish firm Grampian took over the former Haverhill Meat Products abattoir site at Little Wratting, and currently employs 900 staff there, from a total of 2,500 across the country.

Cllr Les Ager, Haverhill mayor, said he hoped the new owners would secure the jobs of Grampian workers.

He said: "As long as it is expansion and not people losing their jobs it will be a good thing."

"It has been a major employer in the Haverhill area ever since the days when it was owned by Sainsbury's, and at one time was the most modern abattoir in the country."

"I know Grampian has closed places in other parts of the country and it is vital to Haverhill's economy that it stays open. As long as this means expansion of the business it will be a very good thing."

Grampian has had a troubled history at the Little Wratting site, with warnings given at a planning inquiry in 2005 that it could close unless planning consent was granted to redevelop part of the site for housing, which would pay for a new factory on the remaining land.

The company shed 87 jobs in 2006, blaming tough competition and over-production in the meat industry.

Golfers set to chip in vital appeal cash

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

GOLFERS will be teeing off later this month for a major local charity tournament – and there is still time to join them.

The annual Haverhill Charity Classic Golf Day is on Saturday, June 28, and a share of this year's profits will go to the Weekly News St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal.

Thirty-three teams have already signed up for the popular event, which is organised in association with the Weekly News, and there is room for more to join in.

As well as a great game of golf, those taking part can also enjoy a meal afterwards and entertainment from comedian Russ Williams, who will also conduct an auction with close to 30 tempting lots on offer, including a signed Manchester United ball and picture, a dart board signed by top professionals and a hot air balloon ride.

Last year's event raised a magnificent £15,000, which was divided between East Anglia's Children's Hospice and other charities, as well as some being given to the Rotary Charity Fund for local good causes.

Part of the money raised this year will benefit our Hospice at Home appeal, which aims to raise ■ TEEING OFF... local golfers are gearing up for this year's Haverhill Charity Classic Golf Day next weekend. Part of the funds raised will help our Hospice at Home Appeal.

£40,000 to fund care for patients in Haverhill and surrounding areas so they don't have to travel to Bury St Edmunds.

Chris Briggs, president of Haverhill Golf Club, and a member of Haverhill Rotary Club, which helps organise the event, is hoping to be able to make a substantial donation to the Weekly News appeal, which has so far raised £15,000 towards the target.

He said: "We chose the Hospice at Home Appeal because of the Weekly News, and we think it is a great idea what they are trying to do for Haverhill.

"We support the hospice because they do a great job there, but this is fantastic because it is for Haverhill. We think it is a very worthwhile cause and hope to raise as much as we can for it."

Hospice staff will set up their own stall at the event. Anyone who would like to take part in the tournament, or support it in any way, should contact Chris on (01440) 703769.

■ Rock out for our appeal – Page 19

How can you help hit the target?

WE CANNOT reach our target without your help – so the Weekly News wants to hear from anyone who is organising fundraising discos, barbecues, dances or other events to boost the hospice appeal. Tell us what you are planning and we will help publicise your event to make sure it is a success and raises as much money as possible.

If you already have an event organised, why not pledge all or part of the proceeds to the appeal and benefit from the extra publicity to help a really good cause. A special bank account has been set up at Barclays Bank. Cash or cheques can be paid in directly to the St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal, sort code 201612, account number 80981842. An online donations page has also been created at www.justgiving.com/haverhillweeklynews, which also gives details of how to donate by text, and you can donate by phone on (01284) 715582, at the hospice shop in High Street, Haverhill, or the Weekly News office in Queen Street, Haverhill.

Local youth groups share funding bonanza

The funds were raised by the Rotary Club locally and then given to local groups.

Open day is for the dogs

SOME beautiful village gardens will be opened to visitors on Sunday to help raise money for a hearing dogs charity. Hundon will hold its open gardens afternoon from 2-5.30pm, and a hearing dog called Scampi will be in attendance. The village event is in aid of Hearing Dogs for Deaf People, as 2008 is the Year of the Assistance Dog, which includes Guide Dogs, Therapy Dogs, Seizure Alert Dogs, Dogs for Disabled, and Canine Partners.

Hundon is opening 14 gardens and teas will be available, as well as plants for sale.

Visitors are invited to come and meet Scampi and get their ticket and map from Hundon village hall. Adults are £3 and children go free. Hearing Dogs gets no Government funding so visitors are invited to "put their paws in their purses" and come and support them.

Cream teas for treats

TASTY cream teas will be served up to visitors at a sheltered housing complex in Haverhill on Saturday afternoon.

Residents in the 70s, 80s and 90s will be helping to host the event at William Blake Court in Cambridge Way, Haverhill, from 2-4pm.

Music will be provided by David Williams playing the accordion, and there will also be bric-a-brac, stalls and refreshments.

Everyone is welcome to the Midsummer's Day event which will help raise cash for the residents' fund to pay for outings and treats.

Vandals attack van

Prison warning after rounders bat attack

BY John Goode

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A MAN has been warned he could face a prison sentence for attacking his step-brother with an 18-inch rounders bat.

Christopher Waters, 31, carried out the attack at the Dial-A-Pizza premises in Haverhill where his step-brother was waiting for his food order.

Magistrates at Bury St Edmunds heard there had been "a lot of animosity" between the two men after Mr Oakley and Waters' ex-girlfriend started living together.

The attack, on June 3, happened while Waters was working for the pizza business as a delivery driver.

Mr Oakley was left with bruises on his torso and head after the attack, the court heard.

Waters, of Minerva Close, Haverhill, admitted causing actual bodily harm, having an offensive weapon and causing criminal damage to Mr Oakley's car.

He was given conditional bail until July 10 when he is due to be sentenced. The conditions include not going within 250 metres of Mr Oakley's home in Hunday Place or visiting Dial-A-Pizza.

He was warned the offences were "so serious" that a prison sentence would have to be considered.

Nikki Miller, prosecuting, said there had been long-standing animosity between the men and Waters, who had been sitting in his car outside the pizza business, decided to go in and "confront" his step-brother. The attack stopped when other staff in the business intervened.

Waters reversed into Mr Oakley's car as he drove off causing around £500 damage.

Jenny Carpenter, defence solicitor, said Waters was ashamed about the "unpleasant incident" and was thankful that no lasting injuries had been caused to Mr Oakley.

She said Waters' former partner had lived with Mr Oakley for four years. But she said the issue for Mr Waters was more about the fact that his six-year-old son now lived with Mr Oakley and his former partner.

She said that Waters had previously felt intimidated by Mr Oakley and had been assaulted by him.

The damage caused to Mr Oakley's car had been reckless rather than deliberate, she added.

5,000 mile takeout on Olympic menu

BANGLADESHI businessmen entertaining their national team at this year's Beijing Olympics knew just the place to get the food - a restaurant in Haverhill.

That's despite a 5,000 mile flight for their dinner - compared to the 1,900 mile trip from Bangladesh itself.

But Dulon Miah, owner of the Mogul, has garnered worldwide fame for serving the stars - flying out to feed Hugh Hefner in Los Angeles and Daniel Craig in Miami.

And Dulon, who is from Bangladesh himself, says his curries are better than the ones back home anyway.

Dulon and chef Sunnu Miah will fly out at the end of July, having already cooked the food in their restaurant, based at the Woodlands Hotel in the town.

When they get to China they will reheat the meals for a series of dinner parties.

Dulon said: "It's very exciting because it's the Bangladeshi team we'll be cooking for."

"Our curries are better than ones from Bangladesh because the British curry industry is the international benchmark. And there's also a food safety issue, because chefs in Bangladesh don't have the right qualifications, and it would be harder to get food into the country."

Last year, Dulon flew a £1,900 takeaway to California for an ice cream company boss. He has also cooked for Blue Peter's Anthea Turner, comedian Griff Rhys Jones and Linda Bravo of Baywatch.

Job boom ahead as depot gets set to open

■ ON TRACK . . . Culina's new distribution centre at Haverhill Business Park is set to open on August 4.

A NEW company, which will employ 350 staff in Haverhill, is due to open its doors on August 4.

The massive new chilled distribution centre for Culina Logistics, a food and drink supply firm, is being built at Haverhill Business Park.

The 191,000 sq ft warehouse will store a wide range of chilled goods for leading food and drink manufacturers.

On a 12-acre site, the facility features 25 dock-level loading bays and has space to house 75 trucks and trailers.

Rien Brakel, group operations director at Culina, said: "Haverhill has made excellent progress and the new site will ensure we continue to provide customers with a robust supply-chain service throughout the UK."

The new site clearly demonstrates our commitment to developing a comprehensive infrastructure that meets the food and drink sector's evolving requirements."

The new site will feature a state-of-the-art warehouse management system to constantly monitor and update customer stock levels.

Culina has a turnover in excess of £125 million.

The new distribution centre will create around 350 new jobs when the site becomes fully operational.

High hopes for factory's staff

■ From Page 1

Last April staff voted in favour of strike action in a pay and pension dispute, but this was postponed for talks with ACAS.

A statement from Vion said the acquisition will strengthen its position in the UK, where it has successful operations in the fresh pork, bacon and sausage markets.

Daan van Doorn, chairman of the Vion, said: "At the heart of our business is a passion for better food and Grampian is key to developing this strategy."

"The combined group will become a major player in the UK food industry."

Vion, Europe's largest food producer, has its roots in the agricultural and meat sectors in Holland, Germany and the UK.

A spokesman for Vion said it was now awaiting a decision from the competition authority in Brussels and hoped to gain approval for the acquisition of Grampian within the next few months.

The spokesman said: "Vion is committed to significant investment in Grampian to fulfil both customers' and consumers' expectations."

"It is a business we will run in the UK with a UK management team. It is very early days and we will be drawing up plans for individual sites in the future, but we see it as a very positive move."

Vion has an annual turnover of more than 7.1 billion Euros and employs 18,000 people worldwide, with its head office in Son en Breugel, the Netherlands.

Search is on for the new Ronaldo

A FOOTBALL club is hoping the next Ronaldo could be lurking somewhere in its growing local immigrant community and is encouraging hopefuls to pull on their football boots for a try-out.

Haverhill Rovers is hoping to tap into the talent of Portuguese and Polish residents in the town.

Players are invited along to pre-season training sessions to be held at Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College, in Chalkstone Way, on Thursday, June 26, and Tuesday, July 1, at 7pm.

Posters in English, Polish and Portuguese have been put up around the town and everyone is welcome along, bringing their own boots and training kit.

'We're all so very proud of our frontline soldiers'

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

This week's news that the number of British soldiers killed in Afghanistan has reached 106 has hit a Haverhill family particularly hard, as their young son and brother is involved in fierce fighting on the frontline.

Aaron Carr, 20, is serving with the 3rd Battalion of the Parachute Regiment, based at Kandahar airfield. He was previously based at Colchester Garrison alongside the three young soldiers from 2 Para whose deaths last week took the number of soldiers killed in the conflict to 106. Six soldiers have since died, including the first woman soldier killed in the country.

Although desperately worried about Aaron, his parents Andy and Marion, younger sister Emily, 14, Kimberley and Kevin, both 26, are very proud of him.

Aaron joined the Paras in October 2006 and was sent to Colchester Garrison last September where he finished his training and left for a six-month posting in Afghanistan in March. On arrival he discovered his tour had been extended to seven months. He is due home for 10 days on Monday, but in the meantime is involved in the same intensive campaign to oust Taliban forces from their mountain strongholds as the three latest soldiers killed were.

‘He is fighting for ordinary people out there to have the kind of life that we all take for granted.’

Marian said: "We have always known what danger he was in, but this latest milestone of 100 soldiers killed has really brought it home to us. It is hard to watch the television coverage about it, but it would seem disrespectful to him and all the other soldiers not to. The soldiers who were killed were younger than him, he may well have met them."

"You are just listening all the time for the casualties and hoping he is OK. "He believes in what he is doing out there and I think the ordinary people appreciate what they are trying to achieve, but they live in fear of the Taliban."

Invitation to add health needs to service wish list

By Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A WISH LIST of facilities people would like to see in a new Haverhill health clinic is already being drawn up – and more suggestions are invited from the public.

A locality group set up to help develop the GP-led walk-in health centre has met for a second time and considered suggestions from members of the public for the types of services that could be provided there. The centre is set to open from 8am-8pm, seven days a week from next April.

Julian Herbert, deputy chief executive of Suffolk Primary Care Trust (PCT), said: "We're very grateful to those members of the public who have already taken the time and trouble to suggest services they would like to see at the new health centre.

"We've had many suggestions, including podiatry, a diabetes clinic, a Parkinson's disease clinic and substance misuse services, but we still want to hear more. Members of the public have until Friday July 11, to let us have their ideas.

"After that, the PCT's public health team will assess all the suggestions so that we can be confident that when the centre opens early next year it will address the needs of the people of Haverhill and the surrounding area in the most effective way."

Local GPs and other primary care providers have already expressed an interest in running services at the clinic, which will include walk-in services, such as a minor injuries clinic.

The services are initially likely to be located in existing or temporary health care facilities. Background work and planning is under way to find a permanent home, which could involve a purpose-built centre or refurbished facility located centrally in Haverhill.

People with suggestions for services should contact Lois Reseigh at Suffolk PCT on (01473) 770054 or at lois.reseigh@suffolkpct.nhs.uk

Early birds flock to opening day

PARENTS and supporters who helped raise cash to pay for a new pre-school building were welcomed along for the official opening.

Ketton Early Birds Pre-School and Outer School Care group moved into new headquarters at Ketton Primary School in April, but it has now been officially opened by parish priest The Reverend John Eley.

An open day was also held for the group's new home, which was needed to meet demand for parents wanting longer hours, as well as before and after school care, which could not be provided at its former meeting place at Ketton Community Centre.

The new building cost £225,000, which was raised in just two years, including a £216,000 Suffolk County Council grant. Another £5,000 was received from the Rural Community Initiative Project, £4,700 from Havebury Housing and £1,700 from local councillor Karen Knight's Locality Fund.

Donations and support for fundraising in the village raised more than £8,000, with help from businesses such as the Barnardiston Arms pub and Ketton Butchers, which sold special sausages for the appeal.

Sarah Long, manager of the group, said: "It has taken a couple of years, but we had really good support from some very supportive parents and everyone in the village. We wanted to give everyone who contributed the chance to come and look round."

The group offers morning and afternoon pre-school sessions, as well as breakfast and after-school clubs. For more information contact Sarah on (01440) 709666.

Church bring out fun and games for youth

CHURCHES in Haverhill are joining forces to run a day of fun for local youngsters.

The event will take place on Saturday, June 28, from noon at Haverhill recreation ground.

It will centre around a six-a-side football tournament, with three different age groups able to take part - Under school, Year 4, Years 5-6 and Years 7-8.

There will also be other activities throughout the day, including a number of different stalls, cream teas, a 'beat the keeper' penalty competition, bouncy castles, a scavenger hunt, balloon race and refreshments.

The Haverhill and District Churches Together is organising the fun day under the Hope 2008 initiative, which aims to take the church into the local community and forging positive relationships.

Captain Stuart Ashman, of Haverhill Salvation Army, said: "This is an open event for the whole town to enjoy, and we were hoping that as many people as possible can enjoy the day."

It runs from noon until 4pm.

Thanks for all your help at gardens day

Sir, Regarding the Open Gardens day at Little Thurlow last Sunday, I am very pleased to report that we have been able to donate £1,875 to St Peter's Church, Little Thurlow, from this event. All in all it was a fun day, which seemed to be enjoyed by those who came and supported us. Most importantly the weather was kind to us. The raffle was a success. The pair of Arsenal premiership tickets was won by John Archer, of Great Thurlow. John is the oldest resident in the Thurlows and was 97 last Monday. He still drives a car and regularly attends and supports events in the village. He certainly does not look his age and is a great character - a most appropriate winner who I am sure will enjoy his day in London in November. A very big thank you to those who gave monetary donations, all sponsors, donors of prizes for the raffle, helpers both on the day and before, the many who bought raffle tickets and to all the visitors, some of whom came from far and wide, in particular Sue Carol Louise and Brian, four of my fellow contestants on Deal or No Deal (I first appeared last Monday - my actual game will be screened on Channel Four on Friday, July 11).

Save your local GPs from commercialism

Sir, I am writing to raise my concerns over the threat that the Government poses to our local GP practices.

We should all be opposed to the proposed changes to local GP services and the encouragement by the Government of commercial companies to set up and provide their own.

Contrary to what the Government is saying, GPs are not refusing to extend their opening hours. Your GP does not want patient care to suffer because of any changes.

Your local surgery looks after you from cradle to the grave. They hold a record of every injury, illness, appointment and referral you have had throughout your life and are the central point of contact for all your health care. If the Government has their way, this will lead to the demise of our family surgeries and our health care will be run by companies with their own profits coming before our needs.

Our GPs need your support. I urge you all to write to your primary care organisation telling them that you neither need nor want these changes.

Write to your MP and tell them how much you value your local surgery. Write to the national and local press telling them that you are against these changes and why.

This issue concerns us all. Please do something before it's too late.

Massive increase in cannabis seizures

AN 181 per cent rise in police seizures of cannabis in Suffolk shows that the Government was wrong to downgrade the drug, according to a Suffolk MP.

The alarming increase in seizures since 2001 was revealed in data released by the Home Office in response to a Parliamentary question asked by Haverhill's MP, Richard Spring.

The statistics show that in 2001 there were 420 cannabis seizures in Suffolk, compared to 1,181 in 2005 - a 181 per cent rise.

Mr Spring said: "These figures are further proof that the Government was wrong to downgrade cannabis. I support the recent decision to belatedly reclassify cannaabis as a Class B drug. But for many it will be too late.

Thousands of young people will have become addicted to cannabis unnecessarily, and in due course will end up on hard drugs or in hospital."

'Don't toss it, put it in a bin'

LARGE rubbish containers across Suffolk have been branded to try and discourage litter and fly tipping. Suffolk County Council has joined forces with BBC Radio Suffolk to promote its campaign. The council has also branded a number of the large containers used to transport recyclable materials from the recycling centres with the slogan 'Don't be a tosser'. Eddy Alcock, portfolio holder for environment and waste management, said: "If we all take more responsibility for our waste and help to keep the environment clean we can make a real difference. Areas which are tidy tend to discourage dumping grounds even starting. By displaying the posters, and branding the containers we hope to encourage people to think twice before they irresponsibly dump their litter on the floor. There simply is no need for it as it is so easy to put it in a bin."

Fed up with all the rubbish on the side of the roads and in many natural beauty spots, Mark Murphy, BBC Radio Suffolk's breakfast show presenter, launched the campaign. Mark said: "Since we launched the campaign councils, businesses, groups and individuals have all rallied around to help tidy the place up." The containers, along with posters, are being put up at the 18 recycling centres across Suffolk this week.

YOUNG footballers from Thurlow have scored a winner after being awarded £500 to help build a new equipment storage facility.

Thurlow Youth Football Club has recently expanded from two youth teams to four, purchased new kit and applied for further funding for new equipment, including larger goal posts.

The £500 Havebury Housing Partnership Community Investment Fund grant will be used to help provide a secure lock up to store the club's new gear at its practice site on Thurlow recreation ground.

Club secretary Lorraine Williamson said: "Havebury's grant has been really helpful. Like many local clubs, funding is essential if we are to continue and we are extremely grateful for the support."

The club's four teams for youngsters up to the age of 12, play in the Cambs Mini

Each year, Havebury's Community Investment Fund has £50,000 available in small grants to support local groups and projects. Since it was set up in 2002, a total of £319,081 has been awarded in grants to support 31 community projects.

This funding has also helped attract more than £4.5 million in match funding.

Kedington

THE 40th annual Meadowlark organised by the community association with the appropriate theme of Ruby Red, was held at the community centre and Great Meadow on Saturday afternoon.

It was blessed with ideal weather conditions which resulted in a large turnout for a full afternoon of events. The proceedings got underway with the processions and judging of decorated floats entered by the village association. Organised by Graham Gosling, assisted by Peter Deeks and sponsored by Advantage Windows, nine floats proceeded through the village, joined by the Colchester Scout Band conducted by John Larner, and a car conveying Miss Meadowlark 12-year-old Josie Bush and her two attendants, Natasha Beesley and Hannah Watts, both aged 10.

The Royal British Legion Women's Section with the theme of Past and Present won the adult float section. The youth winners were Kedington Ranger Guides with Moulin Rouge, and Dell School of Dance were judged second and Sea Scouts with Spanish Tomato Festival came third. In the junior section the winners were Ketton Early Birds with Wheels on the Bus, second were 1st Kedington Rainbows with

Full Monty inspired a cheeky performance

MEMBERS of a local amateur dramatic society will be giving a revealing performance this weekend with their own version of The Full Monty. Barefaced Cheek is at Clare Town Hall on June 19, 20 and 21 at 7.30pm and was written by Anthony Litton and directed by Gloria Orbell.

Inspired by The Full Monty, the action opens with Mick O'Reilly reminiscing about his former "dancing career" to his grandson. He soon gets his come-uppance when his grandson's headmistress asks him to do his old act for the school - unaware that his "dancing career" was as a male stripper.

Little Red Riding Hood and joint third were Kedington Cubs with Ain't Half Hot Mum and the Beavers with Wizard of Oz.

Masters of Ceremonies Ben Mason and Simon Ruggles, were joined at the meadow by official visitors including the Mayor of St Edmundsbury, Councillor Bob Clarke and Haverhill Mayor, Cllr Leslie Ager.

Entertainment included the Dave, Mick's not very bright son-in-law to be, and Pete, his useless brother are soon dragged in as Dolly and Sharon, the strong-willed women of the household decide to teach their men folk a lesson. The action peaks when the men, reluctant to "bare all", are pushed into a situation where a difficult choice has to be made.

The cast includes Anthony Litton as Mick; Hazel Bunting as Dolly; Matthew Brooks as Dave; Beth Litton as Sharon; and Russ Edwards as Pete. Tickets are £5.50, or £4.50 for concessions, and are available from Orbells, Hudgies or The Bell, or by phone on (01787) 278977.

Colchester Scout Band, and Haverhill Millennium Stars Majorettes. Refreshments were organised by the Women's Institute (WI), music provided by the village music group Quaff with Ian Davis on piano. Also in the centre, village history recorder John Pelling had assembled a large collection of newspaper cuttings and photographs of life in the to the winner by Alan's wife Joan. She also organised refreshments for the shoot. £30 was also donated by Denston Plummers Arms. The community association is most grateful to police, ambulance crews and stewards for their help and all who contributed in the many various ways.

As a finale to the week, the annual Meadowlark Praise was held at the parish church on Sunday evening, conducted by the rector, the Rev John Fley, with a number of village groups taking part, all given a warm welcome.

Readings accompanied by hymns were presented by Steve Brown from the association, Cindy Bowers of the WI, John Pelling from the history group and church restoration, Lorraine Farr for the Rangers, Brian Watts on behalf of The Church in the Field, Heng Byron and Melody Gosling for the Soka Gakkai International Buddhist Organisation, Neville Smith on behalf of the farming community, Madge Pelling for the Garden Society, Mary Upton from the newsagents, Marion Farrant for the parish council and Peter Upton on behalf of St Peter and St Paul's Church. The organist was Julian Brandon.

A collection of £145.40 is being donated entirely to the work of East Anglia's Children's Hospices.

New leader takes helm at chamber

SARAH Howard has taken over the reigns at the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs Howard was previously secretary of the chamber and now fills the chairman's role from Paul Donno, who had lead the group since it was relaunched in 2004.

Mr Donno stood down at the chamber's AGM last week, but he will still serve on the executive committee. He has also been elected as a member of the Suffolk Chamber of Commerce's executive board.

Mrs Howard, who is a director of a software design company, said the chamber would be launching a new programme of events in September.

She said: "I am very pleased and looking forward to a good year for the chamber.

"There is such a lot going on in Haverhill at the moment and I just want to get more people

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk to join. The more people we have involved the more effect we can have. With things like Stansted expansion going through we will need to have a voice in the process."

The chamber's entire executive committee, including Mr Donno, was re-elected unopposed at last Thursday's AGM.

The chamber was working closely with the Suffolk Chamber of Commerce and had reviewed procedures and its constitution since complaints were made last year about its failure to hold regular AGMs.

Gillian Blackmore, of Cyber-aid raised concerns about the fact that the initial membership of the re-formed chamber had dwindled from 90 to 58 members and asked what efforts the committee would be making to find out why people had dropped out.

She said: "I am disappointed there is not an open meeting after this. I want to be a member and to come along to regular meetings and network."

Mrs Howard said firms had shown interest in re-joining the chamber following the recent CB9 Business Awards, held in association with the Weekly News.

The chamber would also approach former members to see if they would re-join and arrange events differently.

In his chairman's report, Mr Donno said business awards had been "a fantastic showcase for the local business community and for Haverhill".

He said: "Haverhill continues to change and the Business Park is further evidence of the investment and faith of the business community in the town.

"I know we are in a great position to build on the chamber's success."

Trees face the chop

CLARE Parish Council has applied to cut down three trees within its Conservation Area in an application to St Edmundsbury Borough Council. The notification is to fell one horse chestnut tree, remove a large lower branch overhanging a neighbour's wall and reduce the length of branches on another on the road verge adjacent to Stour House, Nethergate Street, Clare. A separate application is made to fell one black pine and one ash tree in Clare's cemetery.

Gardens to open

GARDENS in Castle Camps will be open to visitors when the New Friends of All Saints Church hold their annual open gardens event on Sunday. ## WI's talk on health is crystal clear HEALING powers associated with crystals was the topic of a talk to Haverhill Women's Institute by speaker Mrs Penny.

More than 40 members heard how crystals are natural minerals in many different forms, which were used in ancient Eastern practices and are still used today to maintain good health.

She described how real crystals are different to touch synthetic ones, and how different colours are thought to have properties relating to different parts of the body.

Super clinics will not affect surgeries, say health chiefs

BY John Morgan

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

POLYCLINICS will not be coming to Cambridgeshire and the county's small GP surgeries are safe, say health bosses.

A national storm is brewing over super-size surgeries, with more than a million people signing a British Medical Association (BMA) petition against polyclinics as the Conservatives accuse Labour of aiming to introduce them across the country.

But Cambridgeshire Primary Care Trust (PCT) says the county's major new surgery, to be located in St Neots and opening from 8am to 8pm every day, is a GP-led health centre which will not affect existing surgeries.

Dr Dennis Cox, chairman of the PCT's professional executive committee and a GP at the Cambridge Access Centre, said: "I cannot see that a small health centre with maybe two or three doctors working in it is a threat to patients in Ely, Littleport, St Ives and Cambridge."

"We need all the GP surgeries we have got. We have no interest whatsoever in closing surgeries down."

The contract to run the St Neots health centre will be put out to tender by the PCT, which will follow Department of Health guidelines and invite bids from NHS providers, ■ PRESSING AHEAD... Prime Minister Gordon Brown and Health Minister Lord Darzi want to see the polyclinics widely introduced.

GP consortia and the private sector. Defenders of polyclinics say they are purely a solution for London.

Lord Darzi, the health minister, has called for a network of 150 polyclinics across the capital to provide services, such as X-rays and scans, normally available only in hospitals.

Labour says the GP-led health centres it has ordered every PCT to build are not polyclinics, as they will not offer the same range of services.

But the Conservatives believe the polyclinic experiment will be rolled out nationwide. They claim if that happens, the average distance people in Cambridge will have to travel to see a GP will increase from 0.6 miles to 2 miles.

Andrew Lansley, MP for Cambridgeshire South and shadow health secretary, said: "The average distance people will have to travel to see their local doctor could rise to three miles - in some rural areas it might be even further."

But Dr Cox believes centres like the one in St Neots, which will combine a permanent list of 2,500 patients with a walk-in option for others, will not affect other GP surgeries. He said: "People can still remain registered with their existing doctor."

Councillor Geoff Heathcock, Liberal Democrat spokesman for health on Cambridgeshire County Council, thinks the polyclinic row involves both political point-scoring and justified concerns.

He said: "The Tories cannot have it both ways. They have consistently said they want to see more private sector involvement in the NHS. Polyclinics are the 2008 version of what the Tories would like to see elsewhere in the NHS."

"But in a predominantly rural area, we have got to be extremely vigilant that small GP practices are not forced out by stealth. I would not be convinced that just because at the moment we have not heard polyclinics mentioned in Cambridgeshire, we won't see them coming forward in a year or two."

"The Government wants more of these health centres and wants the private sector to be more involved."

Recycling options to be studied

THE amount of "hard-to-recycle" waste going to landfill or being fly-tipped could be reduced if a study can identify new recycling options.

The East of England Regional Assembly (EERA) has commissioned Valpak, a packaging and waste consultancy, to look at why some materials are difficult to recycle. The study will look at plasterboard, carpet, and electrical and electronic equipment.

It aims to examine the viability for recycling each material, identify gaps in recycling capacity, and ascertain the quantity of the hard-to-recycle materials. More than 61 per cent of waste went to landfill last year.

Cllr Derrick Ashley, chairman of EERA's regional planning panel, said: "We have achieved a great deal, exceeding Government recycling targets in Suffolk, Norfolk and Cambridgeshire, but more still needs to be done."

"There needs to be a better understanding of what can be recycled and the means to recycle it."

Wrong trousers right for charity

AN MP has met up with animated stars Wallace and Gromit to promote a charity Wrong Trousers Day.

Richard Spring, whose West Suffolk constituency includes Haverhill, wore black and white "wrong trousers" to meet life-size versions of clay characters that appear in the film The Wrong Trousers.

Wrong Trousers Day on Friday, June 27, will raise money for Wallace and Gromit's Children's Foundation, which supports children in hospitals and hospices.

Participants are asked to donate at least £1 to the foundation, which is also encouraging schools to get involved.

Mr Spring said: "Wrong Trousers Day 2008 is a great opportunity to have some fun at the same time as helping to raise money for a really worthwhile charity.

"I would encourage people to log on to the website, www.wrongtrousersday.org and be part of the fun."

Nicola Masters, director of Wallace and Gromit's Children's Foundation, said: "It is great Richard has shown he is game for a laugh. I hope it encourages other people locally to join in the fun and help us to raise over £1 million for good causes."

Pupils give bullying the boot!

SOME young lads discovered the agony of wearing stiletto heels, while slippers, trainers and even an extra shoe were popular footwear at a non-uniform day. Pupils at Castle Hill Middle School in Haverhill wore their zaniest footwear to a special event to 'DeFeet' bullying, as part of a national campaign by the NSPCC. All 360 pupils at the school joined in the event and paid £1 each to the charity. Mandy Waldron, anti-bullying co-ordinator at the school, said: "The children have been brilliant and have come up with all kinds of different footwear to wear to help get the message across. "We have a Bully Board and a voice box where pupils can leave messages about bullying anonymously. The use of feet is to link with the idea of stamping out bullying everywhere." Liam Wilson won a school competition to design an anti-bullying poster and Ellie Wright was the runner-up. Pupil Jack Vernon struggled to walk in his pointed stilettos and said: "It shows that people want to stop bullying. I don't understand how women walk in these shoes." Demi Goodwin said: "I have been bullied three times and almost everyone here has been bullied at some time. This shows that people care." Sophie Brannon said: "It is an original, unique way of getting the message across."

Trust connects to patient data

PATIENTS, carers and health care professionals in Haverhill are set to benefit from a £7.5 million boost to NHS technology systems.

Suffolk Primary Care Trust board members have approved the Suffolk Local Health Community Information Management and Technology Plan for 2008/9. It will improve connections between GPs, pharmacists, local hospitals and the Mental Health Partnership Trust, allowing health professionals to share information quickly.

Carole Taylor-Brown, chief executive of the PCT, said: "The long-term aim is to see that clinicians can access a patient's health history, whichever health care service or clinic they walk in to."

"Patients and carers will be less frustrated at having to repeat information to different health care professionals and managers and commissioners will be able to get statistical information rapidly."

The plan will be developed over the next four years.

Store set to light up

WH SMITH has applied to St Edmundsbury Borough Council to install an internally illuminated fascia sign at its new shop at 19 High Street, Haverhill.

It also wants three non-illuminated fascia signs and one internally illuminated, double sided projecting sign.

Rockin' good boost on the way for our hospice appeal

YOU can tap along to favourites such as Mrs Brown You've Got A Lovely Daughter, Silhouettes, Dandy and Henry VII this Friday when Herman's Hermits shake up the Haverhill Arts Centre.

They've come a long way from their beginnings in Manchester in 1964 with 23 hit singles, 10 hit albums, three films and countless TV shows and concert tours all over the world under their belt.

The gig kicks off from 8pm.

■ Four top local bands – Umbrella Assassins, Darren "Michaelangelo" Smith and The Kraze, Pelly's Field and Indigo – play at the arts centre on Saturday to raise funds for the Weekly News St Nicholas Hospice at Home appeal.

The appeal aims to raise £40,000 to provide hospice services to patients in and around Haverhill so they don't have to travel to Bury St Edmunds.

It has already hit the £15,000 mark so come along to support them and this worthwhile cause at 8pm.

■ There's music of a different sort on Sunday when the Arnold Sinfonia hold an orchestral concert with Thomas Balla on oboe and Kevin Hill conducting. Balla has won the national oboe competition of Hungary for three consecutive years and has toured America, Europe and Asia. The programme will include Mendelssohn's overture The Hebrides, Elgar's Salut D'Amour, Mozart's oboe concerto, Delius's intermezzo from Fennimore and Gerda, and Beethoven's Symphony No 1 in C.

The concert starts at 7.30pm.

■ The Haverhill Keyboard Club present "queen of the keyboards" Jean Martyn next Tuesday at 7.30pm. Whether you enjoy the classics, a stomp from the Big Band era, the gentle tones of a ballad or a hit tune from the latest West End production, bubbly Jean will play them all.

■ Red Dwarf fans will be pleased to hear both Norman Lovett and Hattie Hayridge, the face of Holly the computer in the hugely popular TV series, are coming to the arts centre to celebrate the show's 20th anniversary with stand-up and an ad-libbed question and answer session.

Exquisite stand-up comedy is on the menu so come along on Thursday, June 26, at 8pm.

■ Andy Fairweather Low's pedigree is the stuff rock dreams are made of. His success started as the lead singer in 60s band Amen Corner, clocking up hit after hit with songs such as Bend Me Shape Me, Hello Suzy, and (If Paradise Is) Half As Nice.

Throughout his career he has worked with Bob Dylan, Eric Clapton, George Harrison, Elton John and Jimi Hendrix. His new show on Friday, June 26, at 8pm features songs from his whole career, including those from his new Sweet Soulful Music album.

■ For more details about the shows, or to book tickets, phone (01440) 714140 or go to www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk

■ CHARITY GIG . . . top, the Umbrella Assassins will be among a host of local bands taking to the stage this weekend to raise cash for the Weekly News St Nicholas Hospice at Home appeal. Above, Norman Lovett and Hattie Hayridge, from the cult TV series Red Dwarf, will be at the arts centre next week.

Treats on a summer's evening

Review: Music for a Summer's Evening
 By: Celia Waterhouse

A CHORAL concert of Music for a Summer's Evening at the Haverhill Arts Centre on Sunday brought to a close the first weekend of the town's annual arts festival. The concert marked the 50th anniversary of the death of the English composer Ralph Vaughan-Williams.

The Haverhill Choral Society, conducted by Jane Wright, sang a varied programme of music spanning England's rich heritage of vocal composition - from the Renaissance to the Beatles and Andrew Lloyd-Webber, including a rarely-performed cantata by Vaughan-Williams.

In her words of welcome the conductor, an experienced solo and choral singer/director, and head of music at Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College, paid tribute to the significance of Vaughan-Williams as a composer.

The evening began with two contrasting unaccompanied English madrigals. The first, Bennet's All Creatures Now was jolly and fast, and the second, the well-known The Silver Swan by Orlando Gibbons, was slow and sustained. The lower parts needed to tone down in the Bennet piece to allow the two interweaving soprano parts to be more clearly heard, but the choir achieved a good balance between the voices and very well-controlled quiet singing in The Silver Swan.

The next few pieces had piano accompaniment ably played by Edward Dodge, himself conductor of the choir until 2002. There was good ensemble in the Beatles' Here, There and Everywhere, and also in Cullen's enjoyable arrangement of Skimbleshanks from the Lloyd-Webber musical, Cats. There was excellent diction too, coming over better here than in the following lively Gilbert and Sullivan number, Try We Lifelong from The Gondoliers. A perky unaccompanied arrangement of Frog Went a-Courtin' followed, the different parts taking turns with the melody lines in a well-executed performance. The first half ended with a piano arrangement of The Merry Widow Waltz by Lehár performed, with an infectious swing, good balance between parts, some lovely cantabile singing, and again good diction.

The second half featured mainly Vaughan-Williams, but began with another choral gem, Stanford's magical arrangement of The Bluebird. Kate Hibbert's beautiful solo soprano line soared exquisitely over the well-blended vocal accompaniment.

Next came Vaughan-Williams' part song Linden Lea, an impressive performance sung from memory. This was the one item where the choir really got their heads out of their copies, and what a difference that makes from the audience's point of view.

The evening finished with Vaughan-Williams' little-known cantata, In Windsor Forest, which appeared in 1929, re-modelled with piano accompaniment from the opera Sir John In Love. The five movements are very varied in character, the ladies and men each getting their own number - the ladies slightly less confident here but the men delivering theirs with gusto.

It was a rare privilege to hear this work performed, especially since, as Jane explained, there is no current recording available, and the rest of the programme was well-chosen to provide the audience with a most enjoyable evening of music.

Bravo to Eco-friendly Fiat

ONLY a few years ago Fiat UK was in dead trouble. Sales were dwindling, finances were tight, the dealership network was scruffy and people just did not want to buy.

Now all that has changed. Sales are on the up, the dealerships now number 176 – rising to 200 by 2010 – and Fiat is convinced that with its new Eco version of the Bravo it has the right product in the right place at the right time.

In fact the timing is impeccable. At precisely the moment truckers are drawing attention to the crippling cost of diesel, the Eco Bravo arrives offering less than 120g/km in emissions, thus earning an annual road tax of £35. And the fuel consumption has improved to give 62.8mpg on the combined cycle.

Prices for this model start at £14,150 and run up to £15,150 for the better specified Dynamic version. In the world of £35 a year tax and better than 60mpg cars, the Fiat holds a strong place. This is not a mini-car or a supermini. This, as M&S would say, is a full-sized family car, very nicely made and with excellent detail and finish.

The best way to test a car is to know nothing about its technicalities. Take it out and see what it does. Then come back and look at the technical detail. In this way you are not biased by what you think ought to be happening but are simply influenced by what you have experienced.

I found the Eco Bravo handled beautifully, the new diesel unit provides maximum shove from as little as 1,500rpm. Acceleration is really quite brisk and even with the driving seat well back there was reasonable room in the rear for passengers.

ABS, ESP, ASR and MSR are among the host of acronyms that cover the unseen handling and safety systems on Bravos but in spite of all this there is not a rest for the clutch foot an omission compounded by the fact that you cannot get your foot round the pedal to rest it. Instead it must be stowed by lifting it and then pushing it underneath. Not very sophisticated and out of keeping with the rest of the car.

■ FIAT BRAVO ECO ... sub-120g/km emissions and ultra-frugal 60mpg fuel return.

BASICALLY ...

An excellent development in the Bravo range which, like the cavalry, has arrived in the nick of time. Paying only £35 tax for a car which offers 60+mpg is a great way of putting a smug look on your face. This stylish and highly competent offering will do both Fiat and green motorists a lot of good.

■ FUNKY STYLING ... the Peugeot 207 SW.

Popular models are a great used choice

USED CAR EXPERT.COM has selected three small cars here worth sourcing from a main dealer, given the plus point of coming with a package of mind motoring.

■ Renault Clio (2001-present): "Spacious, economical and good value, the Clio has been vastly updated, and from 2001 it was much better," used expert Matt Tumbridge says.

"There're lots to choose from, so don't buy a scruffy one."

Most economical variant is the 1.5 dCi 80, returning 67.3mpg, and best used buy is the 1.2 petrol.

UsedCarExpert.com prices a 2006 Clio 1.2 Dynamique, with an average 16,000 mileage, at no more than £6,000.

■ Peugeot 207 (2006-present): "This is a car for everyone, with a typically funky Peugeot design that appeals to the young, too," says Tumbridge. "The comfortable seats and soft Peugeot ride will also strongly appeal to older drivers, and 207s always offer very reasonable value."

UsedCarExpert.com doesn't have any fault checks listed for this model, but prices a 2006 Peugeot 207 1.4 S, with more than 13,000 miles on the clock, at around £7,300.

■ Ford Fiesta (2002-present): "The Fiesta has always been good to drive, but the later models are usefully larger," Tumbridge says. "Depreciation is steep, which is good for used buyers, and there are always plenty to choose from."

Most economical version is the 1.4 TDCi, returning 65.7mpg, and best used buy is the 1.4 petrol. UsedCarExpert.com has 11 fault checks online, and prices a 2006 Ford Fiesta 1.3 Finesse, with 11,800 average mileage, at £5,975.

BECOME A MULTI-SKILLED ENERGY ASSESSOR AND HOME INSPECTOR

From 1st October all commercial properties being sold or let and all homes being rented will start needing Energy Assessments carried out by newly qualified Energy Assessors. All homes being sold already require them. 3 million of these properties are estimated to need visiting in the first 12 months by thousands of new Assessors. Homes can also already have Home Condition Reports carried out by less than a thousand currently certified Home Inspectors but 7,500 will be needed if Government confirm these Reports are compulsory.

Applicants are therefore required now to train in their spare time to become multi-skilled Assessors and Home Inspectors. No previous surveying experience is required.

£60 to £80 is now being paid for Assessments of homes being sold and similar fees are expected from October for an estimated 1.8 million rented properties. £200 to £300 is being paid for Home Condition Reports and similar fees are expected for the new commercial Energy Assessments. Up to 15 domestic Assessments or 6 commercial Assessments or Reports are estimated to be carried out in a week, subject to size of properties and supply.

Subsidised training is available for selected applicants at our London, Bristol, Birmingham and Manchester training centres which are approved by the Government-appointed Awarding Body for the Built Environment. You qualify as a multi-skilled Energy Assessor for both domestic and commercial properties, as a Home Inspector and also as a Flood Risk Assessor. This new legislation requiring 3 million Assessments could lead to an exciting new career opportunity for you with potential multiple income streams.

CRICKET

■ ADAM DELLAIR . . . Hit 37 for Haverhill, but his side still lost by nine wickets.

Colville's Hill unable to halt Abington's unbeaten streak

ABINGTON maintained their recent good form with a win this week in Division One. Nick Wells led the way with the bat, making 66 and taking Abington to 150 for 2 against Horseheath. Martin Little took 3 for 21 as the visitors made 114 in reply with Dave Brown top-scoring with 30. It went down to the wire in Abington's other game this week which they eventually drew with Weston Colville. James Hill took an impressive 4 for 36 as Weston Colville, helped by a good display from Arvid Patel (42), finished on 135 for 6. Abington started slowly and the game looked out of their hands until a speedy 26 from Andy Bishop, which clinched a draw off the last ball for Abington, who also had four wickets remaining. There was a good victory for Hellions Bumpstead, winning with two overs remaining and losing only one wicket against Haverhill. Adam Dellar made 37 for Haverhill as they reached 111 for 6 of the 20 overs with Mark Nunn taking 3 for 23. Nunn capped a good night with 49 not out as Hellions finished on 115 for 1. Bottom of the table Babraham got their first win of the season at the expense of Horseheath. John Woodgate was again in the thick of the action taking 3 for 12 and making 44 with the bat to help Babraham to 110 for 6. Horseheath struggled to 97 in reply with Martin Giles making 37 and Stuart Ketteridge was the pick of the bowlers taking 3 for 25 for Horseheath. Long Melford and Ashdon played out a high scoring match in Division Two, with the hosts Melford winning in the 19th over.

Ashdon batted first and set an impressive total of 152 for the loss of eight wickets. Joseph O'Gorman (37) and Chris Wisby (30) batted well, with Wisby going on to take 3 for 54 with the ball. Melford, in reply, had good contributions from Ashley Skeggs (34), Aaron Gummery (32) and an unbeaten 36 from Billy Lordan helping Melford to the required 153 with an over to spare. The Sawston Bandwagon keeps rolling on, this time with an impressive win over the previously unbeaten Brockley.

Stuart Fisher made 53 for Brockley to help them on the way to a respectable 108 for 6 after the 20 overs. However, Glen Goosen and Marc Pearson made 54 not out and 28 not out respectively to help the new boys to stroll to victory at the beginning of the 19th over with nine wickets remaining.

Wrating Lions unbeaten record was ended at Hundon this week in division 3A, despite a fine 58 not out from Aide Cox.

Hundon batted first and scored 129 for 6 but Wrating could only manage 116 for 6 in reply.

Castle Manor got back to winning ways this week in 3B, easing past Babraham 2 with five overs remaining. Babraham could only manage 98 for 8 with Chris Mellings and Charles Shannon both making 27 for the visitors.

Andy Edwards (31) and Liam Savage (45 no) top-scored for the league leaders as they eased their way to 102 for 4 of 14 overs. Greg Wagstaff's unbeaten 64 was the difference between Weston Colville II and Abington II in a close contest as Abington won with only two balls remaining in another exciting encounter between the clubs.

Earlier, Andy Macdonald took 3 for 18 for Abington to limit Weston Colville to 112 for 8 despite a fine unbeaten 39 from Avid Patel, but Wagstaff's 64 was enough to see Abington through eventually reaching 113 for 7 in the final over.

The holders Ashdon cruised past their division one opponents Weston Colville in the League Cup, after a fine batting display from the visitors.

Will Mallet (39) Michael Furze (38) helped Ashdon to 165 for 5.

With the ball for Ashdon, Joe Barrows took a brilliant 5 for 12 and to top the night off nicely, Phillip Salt took 4 for 40, which included a hat-trick.

Avid Patel made 39 not out for the hosts as they were all out for 60 off the full 20 overs.

Hundon continue to improve in form with a good win over neighbours Thurlow.

Hendon made 109 for 4 with Kevin Poole (45no) and Nathan Poole (28) scoring well and this proved enough to see of Thurlow despite another fine knock from Thurlow's Martin Buckner who made 51.

TENNIS ROUND-UP

New boy Mike leads the way

LEADING club player Marcia Armstrong and debutant teenager Mike Cannon were in impressive form in winning all three of their sets in Haverhill's Halstead League mixed doubles team win at Wickham Bishops on Monday.

Armstrong and Cannon got off to a solid start by winning their first set against Trudi Easter and Brian Smith 6-2.

They then produced another 6-2 winning set against leading Wickham Bishops players Julia Cloughton and Bernie Rochester followed by a comfortable 6-1 success over Carol Stammers and newcomer Bob Deighton.

The overall match result depended on the form and ability of the other team members to produce winning sets against their opponents.

Although not playing as well as usual, Ruth Jenks and Ian

Terry managed to win their set against Stammers and Deighton 6-2, whilst losing 4-6 to Easter and Smith and 1-6 to Cloughton and Rochester.

The match win for Haverhill was secured after new member Gill Argent and her partner Stuart Read, having won 7-6 against Cloughton and Rochester, lost 3-6 against Easter and Smith, but then managed to achieve a comfortable 6-2 victory over Stammers and Deighton to secure a 6-3 sets victory for Haverhill and three points for the team.

The win helped Haverhill to climb to second place in Division 2 of the Halstead League, the only losing match this season having occurred when captain Ruth Jenks was unable to play in the away tie at Lavenham.

On that occasion Haverhill went down 4-5 on the astro-turf against strong opposition despite two out of three sets having been secured by the impressive Adam Fowle and partner Joan Ford, with both Marcia Armstrong and partner Ian Terry and Gill Argent and partner Mike Freed each having won just one out of three sets.

The club is hoping the team will keep up their current winning form to secure promotion to Division 1.

If you are interested in finding out about joining the club please call Membership Secretary, Pat Rance on 01440 704032. For coaching opportunities please call Club Coach, Robert Jeffs on 01440 730069.

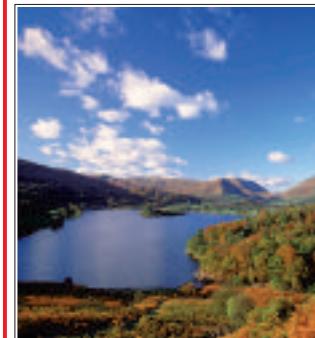

Meanwhile, Haverhill Lawn Tennis Club will stage its annual Junior Open Championship this weekend.

The tournament will take place on courts adjacent Haverhill leisure centre featuring boys and girls from 10 years through to 16.

It promises to be an exciting contest with some tremendous talent on show. The competition gets under way on Saturday while the semi-finals and final will take place on Sunday.

■ UNBEATEN... Alan Ketteridge, left, who hit 44 not out to guide Horseheath to victory over Stapleford, while fellow opener Dan Goldsmith, right, hit 26.

Pictures: Warren Gunn SPO492097/100

Ketteridge duo the difference

OPENER Alan Ketteridge carried his bat for 44 and steered Horseheath to a five-wicket success at Stapleford in their Cheffins CCA Senior League, Division One showdown on Saturday.

Gary Ellis' visitors skittled the hosts for 136 as Stuart Ketteridge took 4 for 42 and Martin Giles, Robbie Ketteridge and the skipper all claimed two victims.

Roy Mallows' unbeaten 42 and Duncan Hankins' 32 were the highlights for Stapleford.

Luke Barnes (3 for 20) and Hankins (2 for 25) tried their hardest with the ball, but Alan Ketteridge and Dan Goldsmith (26) helped Horseheath to 137 for 5.

■ Pace-setters Foxton put Weston Colville to the sword with a six-wicket win to remain top of the table in Tucker Gardner Cambs & Hunts Premier League, Division Two.

Colville captain Adie Westley won the toss and chose to bat first, which backfired when his team were dismissed for 93 thanks to some good fielding from Foxton.

Adam Curtis top-scored with 35, as Andrew Gray picked up 4 for 39 and Max

Bowen and Antonnel Atwell each took three scalps.

Patrick Joseph (43) and Lawrence Farnum (26) set Foxton on the way as they went on to make a successful chase with 94 for 4.

■ Haverhill ran out of steam as they failed by nine runs to catch Hadleigh's target of 214 for 8 in their Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship clash.

Scott Webb and Joe Woodley both took a pair of wickets to slow Hadleigh down, and the former (44), Dan Poole (64) and Simon Youngs (36) did their best to take Haverhill home, but they fell short with 205 all out.

TRIATHLON

Leverett holds on to clinch glory at worlds

HAVERHILL-BASED Barbara Leverett played her part in a Cambridge Triathlon Club gold double at the World Triathlon Championships in Vancouver. Representing Great Britain, Leverett ended up racing a duathlon in the women's 60-to-64 years class after the swimming leg was cancelled due to sea temperatures falling below safe levels. A 3km run replaced the swim, and she was fifth going into the transition before a storming bike ride of 1hr 10min 16sec over 40km took her to the front. Despite being chased down by Canadian Laurie Murray over the 10km run, Leverett held her off to win by 13 seconds. Club-mate Juliet Vickery topped the podium in the women's 45-to-49 age group. Vickery came through the swimming stage in 15th spot, but made up 10 places in the 40km bike ride to go into the 10km run 90 seconds behind the leader. But with running being her strongest discipline, she completed the distance in just over 39 minutes to cross the line first, 45 seconds clear of the rest of the field. It completed a fine double for Vickery after she took gold in the same age category at the European Championships last month.
